“The acquisition of Wharf further establishes Coeur as a leading, growing producer of silver and gold in the Americas while improving our overall portfolio with strong cash flow generation in a low-risk jurisdiction. Wharf is a straightforward open-pit operation that has been well-run for over thirty years. Ongoing capital requirements are expected to be minimal, resulting in low expected all-in costs and significant expected free cash flow,” said Mitchell J. Krebs, Coeur's President and Chief Executive Officer. “We believe this transaction will generate an attractive rate of return and is immediately accretive to cash flow and net asset value. We are excited to welcome our new team members at Wharf as we look to pursue identified opportunities to optimize the operation, add incremental value, and extend the mine life.”

Transaction Overview

Under the terms of the agreement, Coeur will acquire a 100% interest in Wharf for cash consideration of $105 million. Although financing is not a condition to closing, Coeur has received term sheets for a senior secured line of credit for up to half of the purchase price in order to maintain the Company's liquidity and financial flexibility. The transaction is subject to United States antitrust approval and other customary closing conditions. Coeur anticipates closing the transaction in the first quarter of 2015.

Wharf Mine Overview

Wharf is an open-pit gold mine located in the Black Hills mining district in Lead, South Dakota. The Black Hills district was historically the second largest gold producing district in the United States and includes the renowned Homestake mine. Wharf has been in production for over 30 years after commencing production with an estimated three-year mine life. During that period, Wharf has produced over 2.0 million ounces of gold and has a current reserve base of 560,000 ounces of gold.

Processing consists of crushing followed by heap leaching, providing gold recovery rates around 80%. Wharf is expected to produce 85,000 – 90,000 ounces of gold in 2015 at an all-in sustaining cost of $800 – $875 per gold ounce<sup>1</sup>.

The mine has a highly experienced, stable, and dedicated local workforce totaling approximately 190 people with a strong safety track record. In addition, Wharf operates with a strong social license, which has provided substantial benefits to the operation.

1. Mineral Reserves and Mineral Resources estimate as reported by Goldcorp in its Annual Information Form dated March 31, 2014 ("AIF") for the financial year ended December 31, 2013, available at www.sedar.com under Goldcorp's profile. As discussed in the AIF, Mineral Reserves and Mineral Resources were prepared by Goldcorp in accordance with NI 43-101 under the supervision of a qualified person. Coeur is not treating these historical estimates as current and has not completed sufficient work to classify the historical estimate as current mineral reserves or mineral resources for Coeur's purposes. Coeur's qualified person will review and verify the scientific and technical information of Goldcorp, as well as complete the other work necessary for purposes of preparing a 43-101 technical report, including validation of data quality, resource model accuracy, and costs used in reserve and resource cutoffs.
2. As discussed in the AIF, mineral reserves were calculated by Goldcorp using metal prices of $1,300 per gold ounce and $22 per silver ounce, and mineral resources were calculated using $1,500 per gold ounce and $24 per silver ounce. Mineral resources are in addition to mineral reserves and do not have demonstrated economic viability. Rounding of tons, as required by reporting guidelines, may result in apparent differences between tons and grade.
